VARSITY DOWNS MERION 11-3

A. Nicholl and D. Clark Star

Playing a faster and all-round better game than the week before, Varsity wiped Merion off the field Saturday by a score of 11-3. A. Nicholl, by her sure passing and shooting, steadied the forward line and shone as individual star for Bryn Mawr.

"Kicking" Clark, goal keeper, lived up to her name by making several spectacular stops.

The opposing team was weak with the exception of A. Townsend, center forward, who played the whole game for Merion and made two of their goals. Miss Townsend is All-Philadelphia Captain this year. M. Willard, '17, the Merion right inside, is a former Varsity player.

Poor team work on the right side of the field was the most apparent fault of the Varsity team.

DR. FERREE'S ACUITY LANTERN IN USE IN NAVAL SCHOOLS

Dr. Clarence Errol Ferree demonstrated his apparatus for testing visual acuity at low illuminations before the fifteenth annual meeting of the American Ophthalmological Society held last June in Atlantic City. The lantern is now being used in naval schools, hospitals, and on battleships to test the fitness of men for all kinds of look-out work, for signaling, and for all work requiring acute vision at low illuminations. Clinics also are using the apparatus to test for astigmatism.

ALUMNAE FLY CHANNEL

Trustees Meet With C. A. Board

The Religious Life Committee of the board of trustees met with the C. A. board last night, to discuss the work of the Christian Association. Mr. Rufus Jones, Mr. Asa Wing and Mr. Charles Rhoads are on the committee. This is the first time that such a conference has been held between students and trustees.

The question of sending delegates to the International Student Volunteer Conference in Des Moines was brought up. The News went to print before the results of the meeting were announced.

BANNER TO HANG FOR TENNIS

Vote to Form Class Swimming Squads to Work for Championship

Tennis was made a major sport at a meeting of the Athletic Association last Tuesday night. There was some opposition, led by E. Cope, '21, who argued that a game depending on individual ability alone should not equal in importance a game depending on team work; but the motion was finally passed by a large majority. The banner of the class winning tennis will hang on the gymnasium before the basketball season.

Swimming is to be organized by squads which will practice to make one of the five swimming classes. Each person making the first class wins 3 points towards the All-Round Athletic Championship; second class, 2 points; third class, 1 point; fourth class, 1/2 point; and fifth class, 1/4 point. Insignia, designating the number of the class, is to be worn on the bathing suits.

Volunteer Organization Must Go

Alumnae Association Needs Business Basis

Alumnae affairs on a business basis and provision for the expense of an alumnae office and an Executive Secretaryship, was the decision of the Board of Directors. The standing committees of the Association met by invitation with the board at the regular meeting on October 15th to confer on the budget required by an alumnae office, and the personnel of the Board of Directors to be elected in January.

The Quarta, v must be placed on a paying basis, the conference decided. It is now the largest drain on the treasury.

The chairman reported the expenses of the finance committee during the first six months of this year had been limited to $457.56. This amount, which does not indicate small contributions, in the way of expenses made by class collectors, includes the approximate cost of the drive for the Victory Chair. The conference considered this very small for the $56,000.00 raised for the endowment. Since much of the work for the endowment and collections will in future be done by the alumnae office, it was voted that a proportionate amount of the running expenses should be charged against endowment fund collections and paid, as in all money-raising campaigns, from the funds collected, such a charge in no one year to exceed ten per cent of the collections of the year.

The Victory Chair campaign last spring proved to the Board the absolute necessity of an alumnae office with an eight-hour day. Since June 15th an alumnae office and an Executive Secretary have taken over much of the routine work of the Treasurer and the Corresponding Secretary. This organization, it is thought, will mean greater efficiency and closer co-operation between the various districts. It is hoped to expand materially the scope of the Association.

The business long ago outgrew the original volunteer organization. For a number

JUNIORS REVIVE HIAWATHA

1921 Finds New Use for War Whoop Baldwin Lucke, Jr., Appears in Spot-light

"Something new under the sun" in the way of Banner Shows was discovered last Saturday night when 1921 presented the Freshmen with an ingeniously parodied version of "Hiawatha."

Following the plot of the original poem, the Juniors told their own life-story through the career of Hiawatha, from his introduction to Gitchie Gumee, or Bryn Mawr, under the care of the old Nakomis, and his adventures on the warpath against the blue Keewees, to his highly sentimental love story with Minnehaha, or 1923.

By twisting the lines in a way that must have struck horror into the shade of Longfellow, the revisers managed to put a good deal of local color into the familiar poem. Low-brow members of the audience, however, missed the catchy music and choruses of former Banner Shows. Unfortunately, such rare lines as "down the Main Line to Paoli" and "lift up your great legs in running" were buried only too deep in well-worn poems to the forest primaeval.

If the action dragged at times through the over-wordiness of the dialogue, the scenery amid which the young Hiawatha grew so rapidly to manhood left nothing to be desired. The totem poles with the class animals, the background of "sky-blue waters" and particularly the glowing camp-fire around which the braves gathered were well executed, and the lighting effects extremely successful.

High lights in the show were Baldwin Lucke, Jr.'s appealing interpretation of the infant Hiawatha, M. P. Kirkland's Medicine Man, and E. Cecil's realistic impersonation of the slouching Pau-puk-keewis, or 1922, who begs Minnehaha to "break tradition and fly with him." Not even his gift of the peace pipe, however, could prevail upon her when compared with the red tam offered by Hiawatha.

The cast included:

Organized For Two-Million

Local chairmen and district committees are being rapidly organized for the Endowment drive. Alumnae present at a conference held at Bryn Mawr, September 25th and 27th, are now carrying out the general plans.

Personal interviews are substituted for advice by mail wherever possible. October 10th, Acting-President Taft and Louise Congdon Francis, president of the Alumnae Association, met a number of Alumnae at a luncheon in Boston at the College Club. Local organization was considered.

Among those present were: Mary Richardson Walcott, '06; Katharine Page Loring, '13; Sylvia Scudder Bowditch, '01; Elizabeth Winsor Pearson, '02; Catherine Delano Grant, '11; Susan Walker Fitzgerald, '03, and Eleanor Little Aldrich, '05. A general meeting of the Bryn Mawr Club of Boston followed the meeting and the work of organization was continued.

Entered as second class matter September 20, 1914, at the post office at Bryn Mawr, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Elizabeth Cecil was assistant managing editor for this issue.

The source and cause of all troubles was the senior orals according to the songs and traditions of past college generations.
All wrongs and grievances could be allied with that one injustice. In the impassioned eloquence of 1910's song, social wrongs were even lined up with this crying evil. "The railroad trusts" begin it, and further:—

"Inhumane child labor laws,
And Mormons in the Senate—
The sweat shop, that's another thing,
It can be put most graphic;
Unequal suffrage, that's a sin,
And so's the liquor traffic."

Time passed. The college continued to sing its song of woe. The faculty abolished orals. Suffrage won big victories.
The railroads have been in Government hands, and the liquor traffic is gone.

Still must seniors pass through times of stress. Written "orals" are still terrible.
Reforms, social and academic, have been carried out—but funded brain still tyrannizes over proletariat ignorance. Who can predict the outcome of the struggle?

What Will the World of Things Be?

Undreamed-of social problems are challenging the World of Things as They Are.
Labor is demanding to have its rights recognized. Labor extremists are scheming to overthrow United States democracy and substitute a soviet government. Now, older minds are being baffled by the situation; soon affairs will be in the hands of those who are today the student-body, tomorrow
the citizen-body.

It is not necessary to be contemplating work in the social service field in order to take up an intelligent interest in the problems. They must be met by every citizen worthy of the name. They must be met, too, not with hide-bound conservatism, handed down from father to child, but with clear-eyed justice, gained from careful consideration of affairs.

Unusual opportunity for investigation is offered by the lectures given through the World Citizenship Committee. Specialists who have dug to the roots of their particular questions will give fair-minded surveys of various problems, and a stimulus to consider them further.

That the majority of undergraduates wish to prepare themselves to answer the challenge of social problems is shown by the registration of 250 to attend the course.
But more than a majority of citizens, every individual citizen, must be ready to face the imperative questions, and to help try to make this a World of Things as They Ought to Be.

NEW PLANS FOR FRENCH CLUB

Meetings held every other week, at which some member of the club will read aloud from modern French literature, are being planned by the French Club for this year.

At the first of the series, held in Merion Sitting Room yesterday evening, Mlle. Trotain read from French short stories. At later meetings, sewing for refugees will be carried on under the direction of C. Cameron, '22.

P. Norcross, '22, has been elected secretary of the club in place of F. Robbins, ex-'22.

Olga Erbsloh '18 is studying at the University of Zurich, Switzerland.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU FLOODED

Tries New Plan to Meet Unusual Demand for Work

Unusual demand for work has roused the Employment Bureau to greater activity this year. Applicants are being turned away because there are not enough positions.

To bring employers and workers into closer touch with one another, a bulletin board with adjacent columns will be put up in Taylor. On it anyone may write her name, stating the job that she wants done. Workers may sign in the opposite space and immediately consider themselves under contract. A sub-committee consisting of one representative from each hall has been appointed to assist the Bureau.

English Club Revises Membership Rules

Two groups of new members have been admitted to the English Club this fall, as a result of a further revision of membership requirements. Two semesters of credit in General English Composition have been substituted for the grade of 85 in one semester.

Those coming in under the old rules are M. Cary, '20; H. Holmes, '20; E.
Matz, '19, and K. Ward, '21. Coming in under the new rules are E. Boswell, '21;
Z. Boynton, '20; M. Dent, '20; V. Evans,
'21; H. Hill, '21; E. H. Kellogg, '21;
G. Lubin, '21; J. Peyton, '21; H. I.
Murray, '21; A. Preston, '20; B. Spinnelli, '21.

At the first meeting of the club, H.
Holmes, '20, was elected secretary and plans for Lord Dansany's lecture were discussed.

of years the officers have realized the advisability of placing the Association work on a business basis.

When the Faculty Million Dollar Campaign for salaries was launched in June, the joint executive committee, representing Directors, Faculty and Alumnae, decided that the Alumnae Office should be used as headquarters. Bertha Ehlers, '09, Executive Secretary, was asked to act as secretary for the joint committee. The amount to be raised has now been doubled. The active organization for two million dollars has begun. The sum is to be completed by June, 1920.

At the meeting of October 15 the seriousness of the situation was urged and the necessity for electing the strongest possible board in January. It was decided to confer with the nominating committee and ask them to modify their ballot if the requirements of the new situation made it advisable.

In addition to the Board of Directors, there were present at the October meeting: Miss Martha Thomas, representing the Finance Committee; Miss Donnelly, the James E. Rhoades Scholarship Committee; Miss Mary G. Branson, the Athletic Committee; Miss Alice Hawkins, the Alumnae Supper Committee.

Bryn Mawr May Send Five Delegates To Student Volunteer Conference

Amy Lowell to Lecture to Reelers and Writheers

Lectures by Amy Lowell and representatives of several magazines are among the attractions on the program of the Reeling and Writhing Club for this winter, as discussed and voted on at the first meeting of the club last Wednesday. About 25 Freshmen listened to H. Hill's statement of the aims of the club and the plans for securing the magazine's backers, with which the English Club will co-operate.

Alumnae Notice

The Endowment Committee is asking all alumnae who are working on the census for the government to send special work or it to the Alumnae Association.

NEED UNWRITTEN RECORD, WARNS DEAN SMITH, SPEAKING IN CHAPEL

"Individuals leave their stamp on college as much as classes," said Dean Smith in Chapel Thursday morning, discussing Appointment Bureau work.

As 1912 was characterized as light-haired, blue-eyed, and not fond of athletics, so 1923 is already stamped as "independent," she said. Similarly an alumna or former student is judged as much by the unwritten record of her personality as by the her academic grades, when she applies later to the appointment bureau for a job.

FIRE-CAPTAIN IS C. BICKLEY

Catherine Bickley, '21, has been appointed head fire-captain for the college. The ball fire-captains are: Rockefeller, M. Chase, '20; Pembroke West, Z. Boynton, '20; Pembroke East, F. von Hofsten, '20; Denbigh, A. Taylor, '21; Merion, K. Gardiner, '22; Radnor, V. Park, '20.

Acting-President Taft will go to New York tomorrow to hear the report of the International Relations Committee of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, on last summer's conference in London. Miss Taft attended the London conference as a member of this committee, whose purpose it is to get machinery in operation for exchange professorships and exchange scholarships between England and America.

The Rev. John McDowell, D.D., former coal miner and strike arbitrator, will speak in Vespers next Sunday afternoon. Dr. McDowell is Secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, and led the week-end conference here in 1917.

Since Dr. Grenfell, of Labrador, will give an address at Dr. Mutch's Church at 8 P. M. next Sunday, there will be no evening service in the chapel, so that all may be free to hear Dr. Grenfell.

APPOINTMENT BUREAU TO HAVE REFERENCE LIBRARY

Literature with information on every opportunity open for college women will soon be on file in Dean Smith's office in connection with the Appointment Bureau.

Examine Freshman Intelligence

1923 Takes Mental Test as a Group

General intelligence tests, on the order of the Columbia entrance examinations were given to the Freshmen last Saturday morning. The tests were conducted by the Department of Education, under the auspices of the Health Department.

This is the first time at Bryn Mawr that the mental tests have been given to a class as a group. They are similar to the individual psychology tests applied to last year's Freshmen, but this year the tests are divided, and 1923 will take the last half individually in two or three weeks. In their senior year certain selected members of the class will take a second set, thereby carrying out the purpose of the Department of Education in comparing the mental status of the different college classes.

All Freshmen were required to take the test Saturday, and at the beginning of the hour were put under a pledge not to talk over the questions afterwards.

FIRST NUMBER OF BRYN MAWR REVIEW TO APPEAR NEXT WEEK

One new writer and eight old ones will contribute to the next Bryn Mawr Review which will appear about October 25.

Among the articles, there is a story that A. Harrison, '20, has founded on a newspaper clipping. K. Ward, '21, writes of a woman who changed from an ardent admirer of suffrage to one interested in Bolshevism. A story from Helen Kingsbury, dealing with the breaking of an engagement and with the village gossip; poems written by D. Pitkin, '20; V. Evans, '21; H. Hill, '21, and J. Flexner, '21; a Norwegian scene by I. Arnold, '20, and a sketch by E. Gray, '23, make up the number.

The yearly subscription rate of the Review has been raised from two dollars to two and a half, because of increased printing costs.

SPIRIT OF BIBLE STUDY TOPIC OF DR. MUTCH'S FIRST CLASS

Only Freshmen Allowed to Attend

The spirit of Bible study and the attitude with which to approach it in order to understand faith was the topic of Dr. Mutch's first Bible class for Freshmen, held last Wednesday evening. A sincere desire for truth—not as an academic question—and for power to rest in that truth, according to Dr. Mutch, would lead to a knowledge of the Christian life.

Freshmen alone are allowed to attend this course.

Expect Excellent Varsity Tennis

Championship Date Changed to Spring Varsity tennis vs. an all-Philadelphia team is the aim of Z. Boynton '20, tennis Varsity captain and college champion. With increased interest in tennis as a major sport, better Varsity material is expected.

New candidates for this year's team are Miss Muriel Barker, a graduate student and Varsity player from Newham College, Cambridge, and H. Rice, the Freshman tennis captain. Mr. Hoskins, who has been looking over the players, pronounces Miss Barker's serve, which like that of many English players, is underhand, the best of its type he has seen. Miss Rice has already beaten K. Gardener, 1922's champion, in a practice match.

All classes are coming out strong for tennis this year, and daily squad instruction against the boards put up on the lower tennis courts is scheduled. The players in each class are divided into squads, and from these squads five teams of five players each will be chosen by the captains to enter the spring interclass tournaments. Each tournament will count the same number of points for the class as the matches of the other major sports.

The question of darkness and the cold weather experienced in the fall tournaments, and the benefit of preparing in the spring for the summer tennis season, caused the captains to make the decision to change the dates for the championship matches from the fall to the spring.

THE "NEWS" MAILED BY THE HUNDREDS

More than a thousand extra copies of the News are being mailed weekly by the Alumnae Association to alumnae non-subscribers. Effort is being made to keep the alumnae in touch with general college activities and with the progress of the two million dollar campaign.

Copies of the News will be sent during the next six or eight weeks to practically all the non-subscribers. There are approximately five hundred regular subscribers.

It is the hope of the Alumnae Association that those now receiving the News temporarily will find it interesting and become subscribers. The mailing subscription is $2.00.

CAMPAIGN CENTER IN TAYLOR

"The time, the place and the money have been arranged for in a tentative way, now that we have a room for headquarters in Taylor Hall," said Miss Evans, campaign director to a News reporter.

The room is to be furnished with comfortable chairs and is also to be distinguished from the neighboring class rooms by signs. Any one who has news to report or questions to ask will be welcome there, according to Miss Evans.

This change has necessitated turning the old magazine room into a lecture room. At present the periodical room is in the right lower wing of the library.
